Defining Imperialism

Imperialism refers to the policy or ideology of extending a nation's authority over other countries through territorial acquisition or political and economic domination. It differs from mere colonization by encompassing broader strategies aimed at exerting influence and control.

European imperialism, specifically, was characterized by the aggressive expansion of European powers—such as Britain, France, Belgium, Germany, Portugal, and Spain—during the 19th and early 20th centuries. This period, often termed the "Age of New Imperialism," saw nations vying for global dominance, fueled by economic interests, technological advancements, and ideological justifications like Social Darwinism.

The webquest is designed to guide learners through:

- The historical context and causes of European imperialism
- The methods and strategies employed
- The impacts on colonized regions and indigenous populations
- The responses and resistance against imperial rule
- The legacies and contemporary implications

Historical Context and Causes of European Imperialism

The Industrial Revolution and Economic Motivations
